

INUIT WORLD IS MELTING

Olayuk Nakitarvik protects himself from the Arctic cold weather with polar bear skin trousers and a seal skin jacket.

He is hidden observing a seal in the ice.
Now because of the global warming, ice melting makes shorter the hunting season.

INUIT WORLD IS MELTING

As you saw Inuit depends on the sea ice for hunting, transport and fishing.

This incredible photo quickly went viral last summer.
Sled dogs in melted ice water when it should be ice.

After that... How do you feel about Climate Change?
