Some of my friends get money from their parents every week, called 'pocket money'.

Life in Britain

Pocket money and jobs

In Britain, lots of children get pocket money. Children between 8 and 12 years old often get about two or three pounds every week – but there are no rules!

Some children do jobs at home. Then their parents give them money. Other children never get pocket money. Some children save their money and buy something special. But other children just spend it! The most popular things to buy are sweets, drinks and magazines.

Dylan says ...
I'm 10 and I get four pounds every week. But I work for that! I wash my mum and dad's car every Saturday. I help Dad in the garden and I tidy my room at the weekend. I usually spend my money. I collect football cards!

Alice says ...
I'm 9. My parents think I'm too young for pocket money. But I often do jobs at home anyway. At the weekend, I help my mum and she buys me sweets or a magazine.
