

Watch the Video

What does it mean? Draw a line from the idiom to the correct meaning.

copy cat

bookworm

blow the test

teachers pet

cram

make up

drop a class

Ace a test

cut class

to do very bad on a test a test or assignments that it done at a later time the student that the teacher likes the best

to NOT go to class

Someone who looks at someone else's work and uses it as their own

to do very well on a test someone who likes to read a lot to study hard for a short period of time to take a class off your schedule

Fill in the blank

Read the story below. Drag the correct idiom to the blank where it goes.

A. Hey Dan! How are you? Are you ready for the test today?

B. No! I think I am going to [blank] and have to [blank] the class.

A. Why? I thought you were a [blank] and loved to read. Did you [blank] yesterday and go to the beach?

B. No, but I did not study all week. I had to [blank] all night! How about you? Did you study?

A. I did. I'm going to [blank] for sure.

B. You're such a [blank]! Maybe I will sit close to you so I can see your answers.

A. Don't be a [blank] Dan. Maybe you can talk to the teacher and see if you can do a [blank] test on another day.

B. I'm sure you're right. Thanks for your advise.

cut class

copy cat

book worm

ace the test

blow the test

cram

teacher's pet

make-up

drop