

SEMANA 3

UNIDADE(S) TEMÁTICA(S): EIXO DIMENSÃO INTERCULTURAL

OBJETO DE CONHECIMENTO: Leitura de textos de cunho artístico/literário

HABILIDADE(S): (EF08LI18) Construir repertório cultural por meio do contato com manifestações artístico-culturais vinculadas à língua inglesa (artes plásticas e visuais, literatura, música, cinema, dança, festividades, entre outros), valorizando a diversidade entre culturas.

(EF08LI06) Apreciar textos narrativos em língua inglesa (contos, romances, entre outros, em versão original ou simplificada), como forma de valorizar o patrimônio cultural produzido em língua inglesa.

(EF08LI07) Explorar ambientes virtuais e/ou aplicativos para acessar e usufruir do patrimônio artístico literário em língua inglesa.

(EF07LI10) Escolher, em ambientes virtuais, textos em língua inglesa. (habilidade do ano anterior).

ATIVIDADES

1. Leia o seguinte trecho que foi retirado do livro “The Wizard of Oz” de L. Frank Baum e recontado por Elizabeth Walker num nível pré-intermediário de leitura.

“O Mágico de Oz” é um obra ficcional da literatura infantil que apresenta a história de Dorothy, uma garota órfã que mora com os tios em uma fazenda. Devido a um forte ciclone, a jovem foi parar em uma terra encantada e sua tentativa de voltar para casa envolve uma série de aventuras ao passo em que ela faz novos amigos um tanto diferentes, como o Espantalho, o Homem de Lata, o Leão Covarde e o grande Mágico de Oz.

But today, Dorothy and Toto were not playing. Uncle Henry was standing with Dorothy in the doorway of the little house. He was looking at the gray sky and he was very worried. Then they heard the sound of a strong wind. It was coming from the south. It whistled and roared. It blew the long grass of the prairie until it was flat. There's a cyclone coming, Em!" Uncle Henry called to his wife.

"Get into the cyclone cellar! You get in too, Dorothy. I'll look after the cows and horses." "Quick, Dorothy! Get inside!" Aunt Em cried as she opened the wooden trap door to the cellar. Aunt Em climbed down through the trap door into the little hole. Dorothy ran into the house with Toto. But the little dog was afraid of the wind. He jumped down from Dorothy's arms and ran under her bed. Dorothy caught him quickly and ran back across the room. But it was too late. The wind had blown into the house and shut the trap door.

Dorothy could not get into the cyclone cellar. The wind blew harder and harder. The little house shook and Dorothy fell down onto the floor.

Then a strange thing happened. Uncle Henry and Aunt Em's house began to move. It turned around and around and went up and up. It was in the center of the cyclone where the north and south winds met. The winds pushed the house higher and higher, like a balloon.

The little house was carried over the prairie for miles and miles. Many hours went by. It was very dark now and the wind went on making its terrible roaring sound. At last Dorothy lay down on her bed with Toto beside her. The girl closed her eyes and she was soon fast asleep.

Hours later, Dorothy was woken up by a hard bump. Everything had gone still. The house had stopped turning and bright sunshine filled the room with light.

Esse trecho poderá ser visto por meio de um vídeo no YOUTUBE.

É só clicar no link abaixo: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RQWSh7Db-_E

2. Faça a correspondência do texto com a imagem copiando a letra no espaço em branco:

A Aunt Em climbed down through the trap door into the little hole.

B Then a strange thing happened. Uncle Henry and Aunt Em's house began to move. It turned around and around and went up and up. It was in the center of the cyclone where the north and south winds met. The winds pushed the house higher and higher, like a balloon.

C Uncle Henry was standing with Dorothy in the doorway of the little house. He was looking at the gray sky and he was very worried. Then they heard the sound of a strong wind. It was coming from the south. It whistled and roared. It blew the long grass of the prairie until it was flat. There's a cyclone coming

D The wind had blown into the house and shut the trap door. Dorothy could not get into the cyclone cellar

Dorothy could not get into the cyclone cellar

