

Making predictions

ABOUT THE FUTURE

Use will, won't and adverbs of probability (definitely, most likely, probably) to make predictions about the future.

1. In the next ten years, remote working _____ (increase).
2. In the future, companies _____ (view) diversity and inclusion as a top business priority.
3. In the next ten years, jobs in the health care field _____ (grow).
4. In five years, robotics and artificial intelligence _____ (change) industries.
5. Thirty years from now, manual laborers _____ (be) needed.
6. E-learning _____ (replace) schools soon.
7. In twenty years, people _____ (need) to speak Mandarin to be employed.
8. By the year 2050, sales _____ (be) considered a high-pressure job.
9. In ten years from now, marketing analysts _____ (have) much more information available to them to make decisions.
10. Fifteen years from now, extinct species revivalists _____ (be able to) recreate organisms and reintroduce them to their natural habitats.
11. In the next 15 years, the job of companions for the aged _____ (disappear).
12. Thirty years from now, people _____ (live) and work as long as they are capable.
13. In ten years, companies _____ (monitor) their employees by using sensors that check their location, performance and health.
14. By the year 2030, full-time jobs _____ (disappear).
15. Five years from now, security guards _____ (be) equipped with the best technology to assist them.
16. In thirty years, space tourism _____ (be) very popular.

Sentences taken and adapted from:

<https://toughnickel.com>
<https://www.businessinsider.com>
<https://vulcanpost.com>

Image taken from:

<https://www.vecteezy.com>

Worksheet made in:

<https://www.canva.com>

D. Barrantes