

Recent activities & Unfinished actions

Read about Jane and her recent activities as a college student. Complete with the present perfect.

Hello, Mary!

I'm glad to hear from you. I'm taking online classes this semester. It is almost over, but it's been difficult. Let me tell you some things my friends and I have passed through.

We _____ (learn) how to work with online platforms such as Google classroom and Microsoft Teams since the semester started. It's fulfilling. My friend, Julie, _____ (see) a lot of apps to make presentations, but she _____ (not download) all of them. There are too many and not all of them are useful.

As for me, I _____ (spend) many hours in front of the computer so far, and I _____ (not have) any time to watch series. In fact, I _____ (write) a lot of essays using Microsoft word and google docs, and Mike _____ (share) with me a lot of his ideas, so It _____ (be) possible for me to deliver on time all my homework.

What about you?

Love, Jane.

Put the sentences in the correct order.

Jane lately. looked in Google has for information made Her contact social classmates through media. have hasn't She in-person this semester. taken classes

so far. missed haven't Students at college classes