

English Alphabet

Write vowels and consonants in alphabetical order in the boxes below.

Vowels

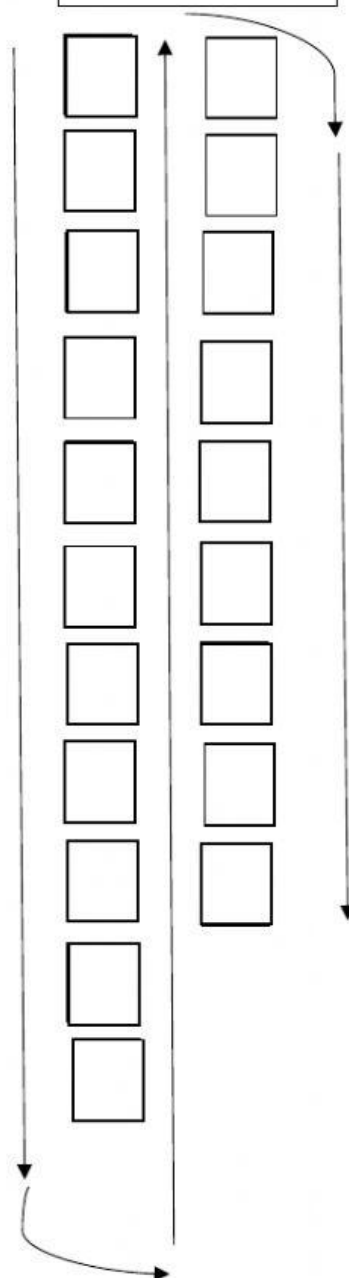

A vertical column of five empty square boxes. To the left of the boxes is a long downward-pointing arrow, indicating the alphabetical order from top to bottom.

A single empty square box, likely intended for a separator or a specific character.

Consonants

A vertical column of twenty empty square boxes. To the left of the boxes is a long downward-pointing arrow. To the right of the boxes is a long downward-pointing arrow. A curved arrow starts at the top of the right arrow, points up to the top of the first box, then curves down to the bottom of the last box, indicating the alphabetical order from top to bottom.
