

Check out this site to read reviews of movies you missed when they were new, and to remember favorites that you want to see again (and again!). This week we're focusing on movies from the recent past—the 2000s.

has to be one of my favorite movies of all time. I love it because , but

, so there

The story is that

, and

: As usual,

, and

. I think the part of the movie was when

This is one of the most movies I know, but it has some serious elements, too. The main message of the movie deals with of the most important

, and

: If you missed this movie in , check it out now! I definitely recommend it!

Sean Green, Ontario, Canada -