I really like films that have lots of singing in them, and sometimes dancing, too! They make me feel happy. The films I like best are old ones. For example, films that show America over 100 years ago where we see good people and bad people, and everyone has horses and guns! But best of all, I like very old stories where the characters wear the type of clothes that people wore in the past.

Gastón

My brother and I like noisy films! We like to watch stories about countries that don't agree and then fight each other. Films about space and the future are also cool. I like the strange characters and machines and robots. But exciting films are our favourite. The main character is often a big hero, and there are always fast cars!
