No Smoking!

The Government made a new law which doesn't allow smoking in public places. As a result, less people are smoking. People are not allowed to smoke on buses or in movie theaters. Many workplaces ask smokers to go to a "smoking corner" – the only place where they may smoke.

"The new law helps people understand that smoking is wrong," says Dr. Alma Avni of the Health Ministry. "Many smokers are happy about the law. Some people said that they would like to stop smoking. Others said that because of the new law people ask them to stop smoking, so they quit."

Dr. Avni says that Israelis are smoking less than they used to. Today only 31 percent* of the population* smokes. In 1980, 42 percent smoked. Dr. Avni is optimistic; she believes that very few people will smoke in the future.

A Break From School

During the summer vacation, children need a break from the routine of school. They need time for relaxation and enjoyment just like adults. However, they also need a framework.

Young children can benefit a lot from going to summer camp. It helps children to increase their self- confidence. Through the camp experience, children learn more about themselves and their own abilities. They have a chance to experience challenging activities. Children also learn to respect each other, work together and cooperate with each other. For many kids, the benefits of the camp experience will stay with them long after they go home.

For older children, getting a summer job can also provide them with the structure they need. Getting your first summer job is an unforgettable experience! But before getting the job, there are certain things teenagers should consider. They need to decide what kind of job they would like to have, where the job is and how many hours a day they would want to work.

If the teenager loves animals, for example, he can work at a pet store or offer to walk dogs when the owners are on vacation. If he likes being with people, he can work in a shop or even in a fast- food restaurant where he can also gain a lot more than just experience-for example, tips, food discounts and a good social atmosphere.

Once the teenager brings home a paycheck, it can help him understand what it means to earn money of his own. He can save it or spend it. In addition, by working and accepting responsibility, he gains a lot of experience and skills he will need when he is older.

One thing is clear, for children to really make the most of their vacation they must work hard to build a firm structure for their time!
