

OLDER, ELDER, OLDEST & ELDEST

 /efl_ana

OLDER, OLDEST

[ˈɔːldə; ˈɔːldɪst]

This comparative and superlative forms refer to the age of a person or thing in general:

- Colchester is supposed to be the oldest town in Britain.
- Peter is a bit older than John, but my sister Sue is the oldest.

https://t.me/EFL_ana

ELDER, ELDEST

[ˈɛldə; ˈɛldɪst]

These comparative and superlative adjectives and nouns refer to the age of people in the same family:

- Maureen's elder sister is a doctor in a London hospital.
- My elder sister will arrive today.
- I know they are siblings, but who is the eldest?

Elders may refer to old people in general:

- People should respect their elders.

5. Choose the correct item to complete the sentences.

1. Ann's _____ sister lived in Great Britain last year.
2. Whose grandmother is _____ - yours or Ivan's?
3. Victoria is the _____ student in our class.
4. Is Peter your _____ or younger brother?
5. My uncle is the _____ member of the family.
6. My cousin is two years _____ than me.