

Write the name of each organism.

Put the organisms in the correct order to form the food chain.

Are these food chains correct?

A _____ shows how plants and animals need food to live.

_____ are the first organisms. They can make their own energy using the Sun and water through a process called _____. That's why they are called

_____.

_____ are called _____ because they consume energy from other organisms when they eat them.