

Write the names of the baby animals. Then, match the baby animals to their mothers.

|                                                     | Mother Animals                                                                      | Newborn Animals                                                                       |
|-----------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| A young panda is called a <input type="text"/> .    |    |    |
| A young eagle is called an <input type="text"/> .   |    |    |
| A young seal is called a <input type="text"/> .     |   |   |
| A young swan is called a <input type="text"/> .     |  |  |
| A young flamingo is called a <input type="text"/> . |  |  |

