

First day of school quiz.

The document is a

At the of the postcard THERE is a (which reads) "First day of school quiz".

So we know the document is (both) a and a quiz.

On the of the postcard, THERE..... a list of the rest of the document are six pictures of

We must match each from the list with their corresponding pictures writing the letter before the identities, in the small squares in the..... left-hand of the pictures.

I think the first person is the because he is
(he is holding a driving wheel)

The second person must thebecause he has a

He doesn't glad to go back to school.

The third person is/seems to be the because he is a red and a white

We know the fourth person is the because she has a and a

The fifth person is /seems to be a because he is a broomstick and he is an
 The sixth person is (the only person who) is
 So, we can guess she is the She is happy because her children finally going back to school.

Grammar tip:

L'auxiliaire "must" est suivi d'une base verbale. Il permet d'indiquer ce que le sujet "doit" faire. Il est invariable quelle que soit le sujet. Souvent on peut le remplacer par "have to" qui lui se conjugue.

Attention donc à la troisième personne du Singulier

	MUST	HAVE TO
Je dois me lever tôt	I must get up early	I have to get up early
Tu dois aller à l'école	You must go to school	You have to go to school
Il doit enlever le chewing gum de dessous les tables	He/She/It must remove gum from under the tables	He/she/ has to remove gum from under the tables
Nous devons prendre le bus	We must take the bus	We have to take the bus
Vous devez manger à la cantine	You must eat at the canteen	You have to eat at the canteen
Ils doivent faire un discours	They must make a speech	They have to make a speech