

Prediction

Choose what might happen next?

1.  Brian saw a lot of nails lying in the driveway. As he started to pick them up, he saw a car pulling into the driveway. What might have happened next?
 - a.  He stopped the driver from driving on the nails
 - b.  The tires on the car popped
 - c.  A stop sign made the car stop
2.  While Trinity's dad was barbecuing chicken, he was called away to answer the telephone. It was a long distance call that lasted 15 minutes. Trinity noticed smoke coming from the grill. What might have happened next?
 - a.  Trinity ate the barbecue
 - b.  Trinity told her dad about the smoke
 - c.  Trinity called her friend on the telephone
3.  Daniel looked at the pile of oranges in the grocery store and wondered which one to buy. He finally decided on an orange at the bottom of the pile and pulled it out. What might have happened next?
 - a.  He peeled the orange
 - b.  He payed for his groceries
 - c.  The pile of oranges fell all over the floor
4.  Ms. Collins was awakened by the sound of thunder. It was raining and she remembered that her window was open. What might have happened next?
 - a.  She went back to sleep
 - b.  She cried under her blankets
 - c.  She got up and closed her window
5.  My principal walked past the third grade classroom. She could hear a lot of laughing coming from inside the room. What might have happened next?
 - a.  The principal went inside the room to see what was so funny
 - b.  The principal called the teacher on the phone
 - c.  The teacher came out of the room crying
6.  Ron noticed a man on a ladder painting a building with white paint. A woman in a bright red suit walked under the ladder. What might have happened next?
 - a.  He got paint on his suit
 - b.  The woman got white paint on her red suit
 - c.  He put on his sunglasses

