WIN! £500 WORTH OF CRAGHOPPERS CLOTHING

Craghoppers takes sustainability seriously. By Autumn 2020, a whopping 70% of Craghoppers' products will be made using recycled materials. To celebrate, Craghoppers is offering one lucky reader the chance to win £500 of Craghoppers clothing.

but here are just three of many sustainable options that you could choose from during your free shopping spree...

The Miska Fleece

This flagship fleece is popular for a reason. Despite being light (it's just 270g!), the Miska doesn't compromise on cosiness, making it perfect for chucking in your bag in case it gets chilly. And you can be safe in the knowledge that it's eco-friendly, too.

The Corey Fleece

Another bestseller made using 14 recycled bottles is the Corey Fleece, the male version of the Miska. At just 315g, the fleece does a great job trapping in heat, making it an easy wear all year round. And as if recycling 14 bottles wasn't enough, like all of Craghoppers clothing, it will be delivered to you in 100% recycled packaging.

The Pember Jacket

The Pember has the most impressive eco-credentials of them all. An incredible 110 plastic bottles are used to make each jacket and as much of the jacket as possible – including the inner lining and every last button –

Even the labels are made from reused materials. And the jacket does its job, too. Despite not being bulky, it's a real winter warmer.

Made to last

Craghoppers doesn't offer a Guarantee for Life for nothing. All of their products are high-quality and built to last which is better for you and for the environment. And if you do happen to get a hole in your new jacket, the company will make sure it's repaired for you for free.

At Craghoppers, nothing goes to waste, not even damaged stock, – helping them raise money for disabled children – and nothing goes to landfill. So spend your £500 wisely. What you choose will be with you for a very long time...
