Writing a Build-up (Writing dialogues and creating a desired atmosphere)

Continue your story about Remus's new found land. Use your understanding of inverted commas to create dialogues between the characters. Use the characters' thoughts and feelings to create the right atmosphere for your readers.

Here are some ideas for you:

What did Remus decide to do with his land?

What was he thinking before he made this decision?

What conversation did they have about Remus's idea?

Did his new friend agree?

What was the friend thinking?

What was their mood:

- Happiness?
- Anger?
- Mixed feelings?
