

A Snack for a Spider

Spiders make webs.

A spider's web is like a sticky a net.

Spiders use their webs to catch insects. When an insect flies into the web, it gets stuck.

Then the spider eats the insect.

Main Idea

Detail

Detail

Detail

Spiders make sticky webs.

They use these sticky webs to catch insects.

The insects fly to the web and get stuck.

When the insects get stuck the spiders eat them.