
Respiratory System
Help you breath in oxygen and breath out carbon dioxide
The air enter throught your mouth or your nose
Air goes down the trachea and into two tubes called bronchi. They bring air into your lungs
The air goes into small sacs, called alveoli
The alveoli transfer oxygen to the blood
Blood transfer carbon dioxide to alveoli
This is called gas exchange