

Choose the correct answer

What is human reproduction?

The ability to have offspring is called .

People are .

The reproductive organs of men are women are very .

People reproduce when they are .

