

JULIE AND JULIA

At the beginning of the scene they will learn how to:

A. Fry eggs

B. Prepare scrambled eggs

C. Boil eggs

Watch from minute 0:14 to 1:05 and put the dialogue in order.

_____ But I do know how to boil an egg.

_____ I was so hoping that... well, for something a little more advanced, Madame Brassart.

_____ How much?

_____ But you are not an advanced cook.

_____ No, but that's exactly the sort of thing that I'm very interested in learning how to do.

_____ Do you know how to bone a duck?

_____ There is one other class, but you will not like it. It's for professionnel which you will never be, I'm sure. All men. All GIs. And very expensive. I cannot imagine that you would ever want to pay the tuition.

Watch from minute 1:29 to 1:46 and complete the sentences using the correct form of MUST.

You _____ (hold) the knife, first of all, like this.

And the hand, the other hand, you _____ (protect) it.

Here, you _____ (cut) only the onion. Yes?
