

MY DAILY ROUTINE

Carla is twelve years old. She gets up at seven o'clock. She washes her face and combs her hair, then she has breakfast. Her school starts at half past eight, so she goes to school at ten to eight. After school, at three o'clock she does her homework and takes a shower. After dinner, she goes to bed at quarter past nine.	Molly is eleven years old. At half past eight, she takes a shower and she has breakfast. Then, she goes to school. She starts school at nine o'clock. She studies English on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. At break time, she plays with friends. At five o'clock, she goes home with my mother and she plays the violin. In the evening, she reads a book before going to bed at quarter to nine.
Sam is thirteen years old. He gets up at seven o'clock and he reads a magazine. Then, he gets dressed and walks his dog before school. He starts school at half past nine. At two o'clock, he studies English at the academy. After school, he has dinner and he plays the piano. He goes to bed at nine o'clock.	Tom is fourteen years old. He gets up at seven o'clock and he has breakfast. Then he goes to school at eight o'clock. He washes his hands before starting studying English with Sara. At half past twelve, he sets the table and he has lunch. At five o'clock, he plays football and he does his homework. At quarter to nine, he has dinner and he takes a shower. He reads a book before going to bed. Then, he goes to bed at quarter past ten.
