Character Trait	Situation
	1. Jacob and Brian were playing with Legos. Katie wanted to play too, so Brian got the pieces that he and Jacob weren't using and made a nice big pile of Legos for Katie.
	2. Scott was playing at his friend's house. He accidentally broke a lamp. He did not want to get into trouble, so he hid the pieces and went home.
	3. When Maya got home from soccer practice, she was really tired. She knew it was her job to take the trash out that night, so she did it right away before she sat down to relax.
	4. Kara was always in a hurry. If people didn't do things quickly, Kara would push them or say something mean to make them go faster.
	5. David does not want to sing in the school play because he thinks he will forget the words during the performance.

Chocolate's Adventure

In a forest far away there lived a porcupine named Chocolate. He was not the only animal that lived in the forest. There were chipmunks, squirrels, rabbits, and foxes. The forest was an exciting place to live, especially now that it was summertime. The animals all loved to play in the warm sun and splash in the nearby stream. However, Chocolate was not invited to play with the other animals. They did not like him because sometimes he accidentally shot his prickles at them. So, Chocolate tried to take his prickles off of his back, but that did not work. Then he tried to put mud on his back to cover them up, but that did not work either. Then he put a shoe on his head to hide them, but that did not work. So, he went home and pouted. Suddenly he heard a wolf howling loudly. The wolf was looking for dinner, and the forest animals were in danger. Chocolate ran out of his house and found the wolf. He shot his prickles at the wolf and the wolf ran away. Chocolate was a hero, and all the forest animals celebrated with him.
