

The Young Dark Emu tells us that when the First Fleet arrived in Australia in 1788 they came to occupy an empty land. It was their right as colonialists to claim the country they had found and overthrow its inhabitants. Did they have this right?

Choose whether you agree or disagree with the highlighted comment.

[illegible]