

WILL / BE GOING TO / PRESENT CONTINUOUS?

FUTURE SIMPLE will / won't I think we will go to Madrid.	PRESENT CONTINUOUS am/is/are + ING We are going to Madrid.	to be going to am/is/are + going to We are going to go to Madrid.
▪ a prediction ▪ decision is made just before we say it	▪ a definite arrangement (100%)	▪ a personal intention ▪ observation-conclusion

Put the verbs in the correct form.

- a) Look at the sky! It (rain).
- b) Marry thinks that Mark (be) a famous actor soon.
- c) Next week Frank and Teresa (fly) to New York. They have already bought tickets.
- d) A: "Someone is knocking on the door". B: "I (open)."
- e) Gina (be) a doctor when she grows up.
- f) Harry, (help) me, please?
- g) We (watch) a film tomorrow with Billy. He (come) to my house.
- h) Can you see this woman? She (have) a baby.
- i) I am pretty sure our teacher (not/give) us any homework.
- j) In five days his cousins (open) their new restaurant.
- k) What (you/do) at the weekend?
- l) I am so excited because next month we (move) to a new flat.