1. Read the internet post and complete the sentences.

Have you ever been to a street festival? I was at one last month. It was in Dorchester, a town near my village. There was a great atmosphere, with hundreds of people there to see the performers, who were from all over the country. There were jugglers, dancers and even a magician. The ones I liked best were a juggler and fire-eater - wow!

There were lots of musicians and groups, too. They weren't famous, but there were some quite good ones. The first ones played rock and punk but one of the groups was terrible. They played pop and I'm better than their guitarist!

The street festival is touring different towns in England this summer. If it's at one near you, go for it!
