

Making A Claim

Below, there is a prompt that asks about what teachers should do when a student misses an assignment.

Prompt: Some teachers are trying to figure out what to do when a student does not turn in their assignment. Some teachers do not let the student make up the work, so the student gets an F. Other teachers give extra time to the student to make up assignments. Which choice is the better option for teachers and students?

Select the claims that best respond to the prompt.

You can select more than one option

- Teachers are mean for giving F's to students.
- Teacher's should give students more time to make up assignments.
- Teachers should not have to give their students more time to complete their assignment.

Which claim do you agree with? Type the claim below.
