

THE 1st CONDITIONAL

1) Read and complete the spaces. Use if / will

FUTURE POSSIBILITY

..... there isn't enough food,

..... people hunt seals,

..... people cut down trees,

FUTURE RESULT

some animals die.

polar bears not have enough food to eat.

the rainforests disappear.

You can also write the conditional sentence in another order, writing the future result first, followed by the future possibility. In this case you do not use a comma.

FUTURE RESULT

Raccoons come to the city

Animals lose their homes

FUTURE POSSIBILITY

..... people invade their habitat.

..... people cut down more trees.

2) Write P (Future Possibility) or R (Future Result) in each sentence half.

1. Raccoons will make a big mess if they raid our trash cans at night.
2. If we protect animal habitats, they will always have a safe place to live.
3. Polar bears will disappear if too much sea ice melts.

3) Read and match the two parts of the sentences.

1. If there aren't many plants, if people protect them.
2. Animals won't have places to live herbivores won't have enough to eat.
3. Animals and plants will survive if people damage their habitats.

4) Read and complete the spaces. Drag and drop the phrases into their correct space.

will be - isn't - won't be - don't have - will look - disappear - won't grow - kill

1. If there enough sunlight, plants
2. The mice hungry if they food to eat.
3. If all the mice, there enough food for the snakes.
4. If people all the snakes, owls for food somewhere else.