Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

Can't Stop Laughing

1. Three hours and six minutes. That's the amount of time it took for Belachew Girma to set a world record. This man from Ethiopia did not set a world record for running or something athletic. He set the world record for laughing. That's right! Belachew Girma laughed for three hours and six minutes without stopping!

2. However, Belachew Girma did not always like to laugh. In fact, he used to be very sad. His business burned down and his wife died. After that, Belachew Girma thought he would never laugh again. Then, someone taught him how to laugh on cue. Belachew

Girma realised that laughing felt good. It felt so good that he wanted to laugh all the time.

3. Belachew Girma practiced laughing night and day. He even practiced in front of the mirror. The only time he didn't practice laughing was when he was sleeping. Someone told Belachew Girma about a laughter competition and he decided to enter it. He continued practicing his laughing so he could win. After laughing for three hours and six minutes, Belachew Girma won the competition. He became a world record holder! He was also very happy. He did not have time to be sad or to worry because he was always laughing.
4. Belachew Girma decided to use his title to help others. Today, he finds orphans and kids who are very sick and teaches them to laugh. When kids laugh, it takes away their sadness and pain. The laughter makes them happier and healthier. It helps improve their lives.
5. Belachew Girma knows that laughter is contagious. The more he laughs, the more others laugh too. By laughing, he helps make the world a happier place.
