Our London

Hi, I'm Claudia. I'm 12 years old and I've got a twin brother called Francesco. We're from Milan, Italy, but we live in London. Our parents work in the City and we go to a secondary school in Islington. In our free time, we explore London. We use our smartphones to film and then we write this blog. We like music, history, nature and sports.

Hello, there! I'm Claudia's brother, Francesco. Claudia and I are writing this blog for visitors to London. But Londoners can use it, too. Why are we writing it? Because we want to show people that London is a great place with loads of cool things to do. And a lot of these things are free or very cheap. Every week we suggest a place or an activity. Not the usual tourist places! You can find these in every guide book. We want to show you the unusual things in London. So come with us and discover the city.

See London's peregrine falcons

This week we're looking at peregrine falcons, the world's fastest creatures. London has got about 25 pairs of falcons. Near the Tate Modern Gallery there are telescopes. You can use them to see Misty and Houdini. These two falcons come and sit on the chimney of the Tate Modern. When they're hungry, they fly down and catch their lunch. They eat birds and reptiles. The chimney is their fast food restaurant!

Play me! I'm yours – London's Street Pianos

This week we're looking at street pianos. Can you (1) the piano? Have you (2) a piano? Every summer there (3) dozens of pianos in the streets of London. On them they (4) the invitation: Play me, I'm yours! People come and (5) down and play.

Passers-by stop and some of them begin to sing or dance. (6) you sing or dance? If you (7) play the piano, or (8) or dance, no problem! You can just watch and (9)

Two of these pianos (10) in St Pancras International Station. They're there all year.

Come and join the fun!

8 A coppie. Chiedi al compagno che cosa sa fare e se è bravo a farlo. Usa i suggerimenti.
