

❖ Listen to some young people, number the speakers according you hear them and write the name of the person who said the following:

Nakaji
from Burma

I think it's about accepting people as equals.

Caro
from Mexico

From my experience, being a good citizen is about getting involved.

Abeke
from Nigeria

I think it's all about making the world better, more equal and humane.

- a. To believe that it is good that we are all different. _____
- b. To respect differences. _____
- c. This is something you do locally or globally _____
- d. To show solidarity with people who don't have basic rights _____
- e. To participate in decisions and actions that make the world a better place to live. _____

