Hello, I'm Sofia. I'm from Costa Rica. Costa Rica is in Central America. Five million people live here and our capital city is San José. We speak Spanish and we study Spanish and English at school.

20% of Costa Rica is tropical rainforest. There are lots of species of animals and plants in the rainforests. Look at this photo of a tree-frog. This frog climbs trees. It's amazing!

In our rainforests, there are 2,000 species of trees and 1,200 species of butterflies.

Conservation of the rainforests is very important in Costa Rica. Some of the rainforests are national parks. In the national parks, people can't cut down the trees and animals are safe. A lot of tourists come from North America and Europe to visit the rainforests. They walk in the forests and take photos of the animals.
