

★ Read and complete the dialogue between a journalist and a police officer.

This evening there was a robbery at a jewellery store in the High Street. Let's hear from Nick who is reporting live at the scene talking to Officer Smith about it.

We do. The principal suspect is George Atkinson, a man who 1) said
2) connections with criminals in the east end of the city.

This is Nick reporting live at the jewellery store in the High Street. I am with Officer Smith who arrived first at the place. Officer, do you already have a suspect?

No. It appears there were two accomplices in the crime. They 3) thought 4) Atkinson's brother and brother-in-law. They are all dangerous men who 5) known 6) guns in the past.

The theft involved an injury to someone in the shop, is that correct?

Unfortunately, yes. A few hours ago, the manager of the shop 7) thought 8) in a critical condition, but an examination has been done and now he 9) known 10) only minor concussion.

That's good news indeed. Thank you, Officer, and good luck with your enquiries. Back to the studio.

And that's all from us for now. Thanks for staying with us. We will be back tomorrow with the latest news at 10 p.m. Thanks for watching BCC news.

