

Forms of Government (Test)

Theo	Democracy	Kuwait, Saudi Arabia	Theocracy	India, Canada
Direct	Presidential	England, Japan	Absolute	Parliamentary
North Korea	Theocracy	Iran	Dictatorship	Representative
Constitutional	America

1. Here the people elect representatives and they in turn elect a leader who becomes the Prime minister _____. Two countries that have this are _____ and _____.
2. There are _____ important forms of government.
3. Here the people elect a President _____. One country that has this is _____.
4. There are two forms of Monarchy _____ and _____.
5. When people elect representatives then it is called a _____.
6. Here the king and queen act as representatives _____. Two countries that have this are _____ and _____.
7. Here the king and queen have absolute power _____. Example of countries that have this are _____ and _____.
8. Here a religious leader also becomes a political leader _____. A country that practices this is _____.

9. Here the leader takes power using military force _____. A country that has this form of government is _____.
10. _____ is a Greek word that means deity or God.
11. Here the people have rights to create laws and elect their leaders _____. There are two forms of this government _____ and _____.
12. Town Hall meeting is an example of _____.
13. When people vote for their leaders and can make changes to the laws, then it is called _____.