

MODAL VERBS:

may, might, could, will probably, will definitely

REMEMBER:

1. It's possible/perhaps – may, could
2. There's a slight possibility but you doubt about it – might
3. It's likely – will probably
4. It's certain – will definitely
5. There's a very good chance – will probably

A. Write a correct modal verb.

1. It's certain – _____
2. There's a slight possibility but you doubt about it – _____
3. It's likely – _____
4. There's a very good chance – _____
5. It's possible/perhaps – _____

B. Give the explanation to the modal verbs in the context of the sentence.

1. He may still believe in ghosts. _____
2. She'll definitely arrive on time. _____
3. Some students might prefer distance learning rather than going to school every day.

4. The participants will probably be divided into two groups. -

C. Using the given prompts make a sentence with a correct modal verb.

1. We _____ repair the fence tomorrow. (It's likely.)
2. They _____ book tickets for the flight. (It's certain.)
3. He _____ meet his sister after school. (It's possible/perhaps.)
4. My parents _____ go on holiday in summer. (There's a very good chance.)
5. Our _____ stop distance learning next week. (There's a slight possibility but you doubt about it.)

