

Match the titles to their definitions:

It consists of the heart, blood, and blood vessels.

They are classified into 3 groups: Veins, Capillaries and Arteries.

When we get hurt, sometimes get them.

This is where carbon dioxide is exchanged for oxygen.

Respiratory System

Red Cells

Blood Vessels

Platelets

Lungs

White cells

Bruises

Circulatory System

It consists of the pulmonary airways and lungs.

They give blood its color and transport oxygen.

They defend the organism against illnesses.

Pieces of cells that form a plug or clot. A clot is what stops bleeding when you cut yourself, through a process called coagulation.