

I COMPLETE WITH SO OR SUCH

May 21st

Dear diary,

Last night, something strange happened. It wasstrange that I had to write about it. I came home from work as usual. I wastired that I didn't want to eat anything. I went straight to bed, but it was a hot night that I couldn't sleep. I turned on the TV, but the programmes were all boring that I turned it off again.

Suddenly, I heard a man's voice. "Don't move!" I was scared that I couldn't move anyway. The room was dark that I couldn't see who it was.

"Get up!" he shouted. Suddenly, he turned the light on. It was a bright light that I couldn't see him at first. Then I saw him. He had a scary face that I became even more frightened.

Just then someone started shaking my arm. It was my brother waking me up. "John, it's morning. You've been sleeping fora long time that I thought I had better wake you up."

The TV was on. "And the police have been looking for this man for long that...", I heard the speaker saying. The wanted man on TV was the same as the man in my nightmare. Yes, it was a scary nightmare. But, was it a nightmare?
