

TASK 1

Put the verbs in brackets into the correct form.

- 1 A: Would you like (go) bowling tonight?
 B: No, thanks. I hate (bowl).
- 2 A: I can't wait (get) home.
 B: Neither can I. I'm really looking forward to (open) our presents.
- 3 A: Remind me (walk) the dog before I leave in the morning, will you?
 B: Sure, but you know I wouldn't mind (do) it for you.
- A: I'm not very keen on (play) board games.
 B: Me neither. I can't stand (wait) for someone to make their move.
- A: I can't help (laugh) when I see him.
 B: Yeah, and I love (tease) him.

TASK 2

Choose the correct sentence.

- 1 a He was mean and made the child to cry.
 b He was mean and made the child cry.
- 2 a Let me to have your dictionary for a while.
 b Let me have your dictionary for a while.
- 3 a I would love to watch a good comedy now.
 b I would love watching a good comedy now.
- 4 a Jake really enjoys going to the gym.
 b Jake really enjoys to go to the gym.
- 5 a Could you remind me posting the letter?
 b Could you remind me to post the letter?
- 6 a I honestly don't mind doing the shopping for you.
 b I honestly don't mind to do the shopping for you.

TASK 3 Put the verbs in brackets in the infinitive or -ing form.

- 7 a They must to work long hours if they want to make money.
b They must work long hours if they want to make money.
- 8 a Can you imagine to be as famous as her?
b Can you imagine being as famous as her?
- 9 a I look forward to seeing you at the party.
b I look forward to see you at the party.
- 10 a Would you mind to help me with the dishes?
b Would you mind helping me with the dishes?

- 1 A: Will you let me (borrow) your black jacket tonight?
B: No way! I want (wear) it myself.
- 2 A: I can't wait (get) to know everyone.
B: Really? I can't stand (meet) new people.
- 3 A: Do you enjoy (go) to the gym?
B: Yeah, but I hate (do) aerobics.
- 4 A: Sorry, but you can't (sit) there.
B: That's OK! I don't mind (stand).
- 5 A: Do you fancy (go) to the tennis match on Sunday?
B: Come on. You know I can't stand (watch) tennis.