

EXTRA CREDIT: 2 BUCKS

brilliant blue	rustled	a dog with two tails handlebars	tentatively	wobble sailing down	assured	crisp and cool seventh heaven	without a hitch	chided

It was a beautiful friday morning. The sky was a _____ and the leaves _____ in the gentle wind. The fresh morning air was _____ My father is teaching me how to cycle today. I was so excited, I was like

_____.

I _____ placed my legs on the _____ as my father held firmly to the _____ of the bicycle. The bicycle began to _____. I was scared at first. My dad _____ me I will be fine. Slowly, I began to pedal down the pavement. I moved faster and faster. Soon, I was _____ the pavement.

"Hold on to your brakes!" my father shouted. I realized I didn't know where the brakes were!

"Oh no!" I muttered. Within seconds, I fell down with a thud. "You need to listen to all instructions before you ride your bike!" My father _____ me.

This time, I learnt my lesson and patiently listened to all the instructions my father gave me. Soon, I was sailing down every hill in the park _____. I made an accomplishment that day. I learnt how to cycle. My father beamed from ear to ear and I felt like I was in _____.

