But as time
went on, things
started to change.

C.

At first, Mario did not like what Sandra did or said. Sandra liked to hang out with friends, but Mario didn't like that.

D.

He did not like what Sandra did in her freetime either. Sometimes Mario embarrassed Sandra in front of others.

Mario was not the person she thought she knew. Mario started to act differently.

Then, Mario did not like the way Sandra dressed.

At school everybody was worried for Sandra. Sandra was not happy with Mario anymore. She was anxious and stressed out.

However, she believed Mario was her other half, her one true love. She tried to convince herself that this was normal.

There are so many myths about love.

E.

It's important to recognise how these myths about love can disguise violence and abuse. Do you know the kinds of violence that usually happen in boyfriend-girlfriend relationships?

Nevertheless, this is not true love.

F.

If he or she is jealous, controlling, offends you, humiliates you in front of others, or makes you feel bad about the decisions you make, this is psychological violence.

If he or she pushes you, pulls you, or hits you, this is physical violence.

If he or she tells you things that make you feel uncomfortable, touches you without your consent, or blackmails you into having a sexual relationship, this is sexual violence.

How can you recognise a healthy relationship?

G.

You have time to spend with your friends and family.

He or she respects your decisions.

H.

You do activities together and help each other

You talk with each other in order to find a solution to disagreements or problems.

If you are a victim of violence or if you know a victim of violence, call 100.
