What is an Iceberg?

The tallest mountain

All about ice

An iceberg is a big piece of ice. Sometimes icebergs break and move round oceans, seas, and lakes. Big icebergs look like ice mountains. There are lots of icebergs in the North Atlantic Ocean and in the Antarctic. Icebergs can be small like a car, big like an island and tall like a mountain. The tallest iceberg is in the North Atlantic Ocean. It is 168m tall. You can see only a small part of the iceberg above water. Icebergs are much bigger under the water. Icebergs can be very dangerous for ships!
