

Milk is stickier than water. If you blow bubbles with a straw in a glass of milk, they will stay at the top of the glass for a while. They won't float through the air like soap bubbles. The milk isn't sticky enough for that. But milk bubbles look like soap bubbles. Wherever they aren't touching the glass or each other, they will be round.

Write 1-3 sentences about the mental images you made in your mind from this page.

Sentence Starters

When I read the words...
I pictured...

I visualized...
I imagined...

---

---

---

---