A PRACTICAL INVENTION

Grace Howard is a young student in Australia who has won an award for an invention to help people in the near future.

Look at the picture. Can you guess what the invention is?

Listen to the news story via the link on the Padlet and complete the text below.

KIDSNEWS

NEWS SPORT KEY TOPICS Reading Levels ▸ Green Orange Red search

Big idea kickstarts Grace's future career

Olivia Jenkins, November 26, 2020 7:00PM Print Article

Young inventor Grace Howard has won a big prize for her 'kick me pedestrian button'. Picture: Rob Leeson

Grace is an _____ year old student in Australia. Her invention is called the 'kick me pedestrian _____'.

The problem she is trying to solve is to stop the spreading of _____ by pedestrians who have to _____ the buttons on the traffic lights when they want to _____ the road.

It was selected because it gives a _____ solution to helping people during this pandemic.

She won a _____ prize for $10 00. She will put some of this money towards producing this button. She wishes to be a _____when she grows up.

cash – scientist – button – eight - touch - practical – germs - cross