

Animals Have Special Traits to Breathe Oxygen; Worksheet 2

Choose the animal that is being described.

They can stay underwater for up to four minutes without breathing.

They can dive to depths of 900 feet.

They can stay underwater for nearly ten minutes without breathing.

They live along rivers.

They have flippers that help them swim well.

They often float at the water's surface in forests of kelp.

While floating on their backs, they can even sleep.

It is faster than any other sea lion or seal in the world.

Choose the correct name of each animal.

