Charlie is 12 years old. He lives in a house in a small town. He goes to a small school in his town. His favourite subject is Science. His Science lessons are fun. Charlie wants to be a scientist or a doctor. He always does his Science homework and he thinks it is easy. He sometimes does experiments at home. Last week he planted some seeds. He waters the seeds every day. He's waiting for them to grow.

He didn't go to school yesterday. His class went to London. They visited the Science Museum. In the morning they saw some dinosaur skeletons. They had lunch at the museum. Jake had a burger and a milkshake. In the afternoon they met a famous scientist. Her name was Jane Goodall. When she was young she lived in Africa and studied chimpanzees. She was very interesting. Charlie took a photo of Jane with his mobile phone. He had a great day.
