While-reading

Read the passage carefully.

There are over 1000 types of orchids in Thailand. The wild orchid can be seen flowering in January during the cooler season and again in August during the rainy season. The most popular orchids are Vanda.

The flowers may be blue, violet or lilac in the wild species, occasionally blackish purple or yellowish. Some hybrids come in other lovely pastel flowers such as violet-blue, rose, pale pink, white, and even yellow.

However, hybrid orchids can be seen throughout the year as they are used for decorations in drinks, food, and girl's hair.

From December to February in the winter season, Chiang Rai Flower Festival is such a great place to visit and take photos.
