A couple of years ago my Father got a new job. A town where he got it was 100 km from our home. My parents we would have to move, because it took much time for Father to come to his working place every day.

When they me about their plan I was upset because I enjoyed my home and school. I was sure I would all my friends and teachers a lot.

Well, half a year that, we moved to another town. The house was more comfortable than the old one, and my bedroom window I could see the sea.

I was worried about the first day at my new school. I felt really about meeting new classmates and teachers. But when I got there everyone was great! My class teacher was nice and I friends with some girls from my class. Changing home isn't that bad, after all!
