There are many stories about different people's ways and habits. When we think how Englishmen behave, they are considered to be naturally polite and are never tired saying "Thank you" and "I'm sorry".

People are sure they are disciplined. You think they'll never loud in the streets and are never in a hurry.

It's generally believed that they never rush for in buses and trains.

It's a custom for English people not to shake hands when meeting one. They just smile and "Hello". They say "How do you do" sometimes, but not very often, only to people they meet for the first time.
