1. Fashion changes very quickly.
2. Some clothes become rubbish.
3. People have to pay for the clothes that you don't want.
4. Charities only take clothes and shoes.
5. Charities take clothes from people of all ages.

An amazing way to help others

When fashion changes and you don't want to wear old trends, what do you do with your clothes?

What happens to old clothes?

A lot of people throw their old clothes in the bin. Don't do that! It's not a good idea to waste them. Give them to people who need them and you can spread a little happiness instead. There are charities that take your old clothes and shoes. They are sent to places where families don't have enough money to buy them.

What can you do?

Look at your things and decide which objects you don't want any more and can give to a charity. Your clothes and shoes must be clean and look nice. Don't give the charity things that you have been wearing for a very long time that no one wants to wear. Ask your parents as well for things they don't wear – these can be given to other people too.

Don't forget accessories – everyone likes to look good, and some nice earrings, a necklace or a scarf can really make someone smile!
