VOCABULARY

1. MATCH THE WORDS WITH THEIR MEANINGS.

RELEASE	A piece of software that is used on a page of a website to give the user changing information of a particular type.
SETTLE	An attempt to become important again after a period of being much less powerful.
COMEBACK	The action of making a film, recording, or other product available to the public.
LATTER	To reach a decision or an agreement about something.
REALM	An area of interest or activity.
SUITABLE	Right or correct for a particular situation or person.
HECK	An expression or a way of adding emphasis to a statement or question.
WIDGET	the last of more than two people, things, or groups previously mentioned.

2. PHRASE MATCH

Developers are moving away from	communicating to a computer besides text.
Companies release special-purpose	functional and imperative languages.
Programming languages split between	well beyond the dataset.
Many will question whether	declarative languages.
Extrapolating the curve	creating new programming languages is the right approach.
Other ways of	managing physical servers.